

REPORT:*ARIZONA'S HEALTHCARE COST CRISIS REVEALED

A new survey of likely voters in Arizona reveals the toll that high-cost care and prescription drugs are taking on families across the state. The numbers are clear - many Arizona residents are delaying needed and cost barriers are preventing others from receiving treatment prescribed by a doctor — all realities that could lead to worse health outcomes.

KEY FINDINGS

Conducted by Global Strategy Group and released by West Health, this new survey exposes how many are feeling the devastating impacts of unaffordable and inaccessible healthcare -- particularly during the pandemic. For more information, read the memo and summary of results.

In the last year, more than 2,000,000 Arizona residents did not seek treatment for a health problem due to cost of care.

SUPPORT FOR MEDICARE NEGOTIATING DRUG PRICES REMAINS HIGH IN ARIZONA

87% of voters in Arizona

support requiring drug companies to negotiate with Medicare for lower prescription drugs for all Americans.

65% of voters in Arizona

prefer giving Medicare the power to negotiate prescription drug prices over limiting drug price increases to the rate of inflation.

For decades Americans have been promised lower healthcare costs, but these have largely been broken promises. People are frustrated and worried, and more importantly, they are getting sicker and even dying.
